Saturday, July 26. 1707.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 28.

Naples, July 5.

THE Council of War having been twice assembled, the Nobility and Grandees declar'd they would lay down their Arms and not act against the Germans.

Thereupon another Council was held, in which the Viceroy took his Leave of the Members that compos'd it, saying his Government was at an End, and that his Successor was at Hand. Then he went to Gaeta where are two Galleys to carry him off. The Viceroy's Son, who is pass'd through here, for Venice as is said, has given his Regiment to the Duke de Matalone. The Royal Palace is fitting up for Count Marinitz.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 21.

Vienna, July 9. The Earl of Peterborow is gone from hence for the Netherlands by the Way of Leipzick and Hanover. 'Tis advis'd from Hungary, that not only the Hungarians, but the Transilvanians likewise have renew'd their Confederacy, obliging themselves to carry on the War till they have obtain'd intire Liberty and Independancy from the House of Austria.

Vienna, July 9. Count Sinzendorf has sent an Express hither with a new Proposal relating to the King of Sweden's Demands to have Count Zobor, and also the Imperial Officers that interrupted the Swedish Levies in Silesia, deliver'd up to him; which Proposal is, that the Emperour's Intercession for the Count's Life should be admitted and duly regarded. Upon which several Councils have been held at Court. Our Advices from Hungary do not only assure us, that the Hungarians and Transilvanians have renew'd their Confederacy to obtain their full Freedom from the House of Austria by Force of Arms, and declar'd Prince Ragotski Prince of Transilvania; but that Arath is besieg'd by a Body of Malecontents under Count Caroli, and that the Garrison is very weak and compos'd chiefly of Rascians, and therefore like to be soon taken; by which the Communication with Transilvania will be intirely cut off.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 26.

Vienna, July 13. The 10th Instant a great Council was held at Court on the Affair of Count Zobor, and the Depositions of the Counts Thurn and Proskau, and of M. Urbig, who were in Company when Count Zobor affronted Baron Stralenheim, were examin'd and consider'd: And the Result was, that the Emperour should be advis'd to deliver up Count Zobor to the King of Sweden, but with an Intercession that his Life may be spar'd.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 28.

Vienna, July 16. The 13th Instant at Night Count Zobor in an open Post-Wagon with 2 Officers, and 3 other open Post-Waggons with Soldiers, was sent from hence to Auffig on the Frontier of Silesia; after Count Sinzendorf Councillor of the Court, had signified to him the Emperour's Resolution, and admonish'd him to carry himself modestly and patiently. Yesterday Count Wratisslaw set out for Auffig, to stay there till Count Sinzendorf the Emperour's Minister with the King of Sweden send him Intimation that his coming to his Swedish Majesty will not be unacceptable to him. It being likewise resolv'd, that the Officer at Breslau who gave Molestation to the Swedes that were raising Men, shall also be deliver'd up, 'tis believ'd his Swedish Majesty will be satisfied; the rather because Count Wratisslaw is to declare to his said Majesty and his Ministers, that the Escape of the 2 Battalions of Muscovites was made without the Knowledge and Connivance of the Imperial Court: Further, the King of Sweden having given to understand, that he desires the Grievances of the Protestants in Silesia should be speedily redress'd, pursuant to the Treaty of Westphalia; Count Wratisslaw is likewise said to have Order to promise that some Churches in Silesia and their Revenues shall be restor'd to the Protestants, and that they shall be allow'd the free Exercise of their Religion throughout Silesia. Count Lescheraine has assur'd the Imperial Court, that the Elector Palatine his Master consents that his Troops which serve under Prince Eugene shall be sent to Catalonia as soon as they can be spar'd; and the Count is preparing to go from hence, to carry this News to King Charles. M. de Mellarede who formerly resided in Switzerland for the Duke of Savoy, is expected here. The Malecontent Hungarians have declar'd that the Throne of that Kingdom is vacant; but 'tis hop'd the Heats and Divisions that are among them will bring all their Affairs into Confusion. The Army under Count Staremberg is encamp'd at Weyssenburg, and General Rabutin's Body of Troops at Raab: The latter are to march for Transilvania in a short Time.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated July 26.

Lublin, July 4. The great Council (or Diet) here, will speedily publish an Interregnum, (or declare the Throne vacant;) and the Diet will be remov'd to Tarnogor, there to proceed to the Election of a new King. The Czar has sent circular Letters to all the Palatinals, exhorting them to send Deputies to the Election; and he has propos'd for Candidates the great Marshal of the Crown, the under-Chancellor, and the Sword-bearer.

Warsaw, July 9. The Diet at Lublin have declar'd the Throne to be vacant, and that they will proceed to a new Election within 3 Weeks. The Czar of Muscovy who has promoted this Affair, has promis'd to make Satisfaction to the Republick for the Disorders committed by his Troops; to advance a Subsidy of some Millions; and to restore to them (when Peace shall be made) the Fortress of Buchouw lately taken by his Troops. There was at Lublin a Minister from the Emperour, but without a publick Character, who is return'd to the Court of Vienna very well satisfied with the Successes of his Negotiation.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 26.

Hamburg, July 22. The Polish Letters say the Czar

Czar of Muscovy uses his utmost Endeavours to have the Election of a new King be made the 21st Instant. 'Tis also advis'd, that that Election is like to fall upon Prince James Sobieski, Prince Ragnski, or the great Field-Marshal of the Crown.

Leipsick, July 20. The Earl of Peterborow arriv'd here on Sunday last, and the next Day waited on the King of Sweden. 'Tis said the King of Sweden has receiv'd Advice by an express, that 20000 Muscovites have besieg'd Posen, in which is a Garrison of 2000 Swedish Foot commanded by General Crafsau; and that 3000 Swedish Horse which were in the Neighbourhood of that Place are retur'd into Lusatia.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated July 29.

Leipsick, July 23. We hear the Imperial Court have a length resolv'd to send Count Zobor Prisoner to the King of Sweden, upon his Swedish Majesty's Promise that the said Count after he has ask'd Pardon for his want of Respect in Conversation with Baron Stralenheim, shall be set at Liberty and sent back to Vienna. 'Tis reported that Count is already arriv'd in General Mardefeld's Quarter at Dippoldswald, as also the Adjutant of Breßlau who quarrel'd with the Swedish Officers that were raising Men in that City. Yesterday the Earl of Peterborow set out from hence for Hanover, in his Way to Holland and so over to England. He was at Dresden, and had Audience there of King Augustus.

Hague, July 29. The Imperial Envoy receiv'd some Days ago an Express from the Court of Vienna, with Dispatches about the Differences between the Emperour his Master and the King of Sweden. Those Differences seem to be in a speedy Way of Accommodation, seeing the Emperour delivers up Count Zobor and the Officer of Breßlau that quarrel'd with the Swedes for levying Men in Silesia; and offers to enter into a Negotiation upon the other Grievance complain'd of by the King of Sweden, namely the Escape of the Muscovites through Moravia. Here are Letters in this Town from Collonel Cavalier, the fam'd Leader of the Camaisars: They are dated from Genoa: He writes, that he was wounded in the Battle of Almanza, but had the good Fortune to make his Escape to Alicant, whence he went by Sea to Barcelona, where it was thought proper to send him over to Genoa, that he might be employ'd in the Army of the Allies; which he is like to find deep in Provence, and consequently not very far from his own Countrymen the Cevennois. Two Days ago the Imperial Minister receiv'd a Journal from Prince Eugene of his March to the 13th Instant Inclusive, dated from St. Laurens on the Var. The Army having march'd 6 Days successively, it was judg'd necessary to let them rest 2 Days; in which time the Troops that were behind would come up, and a Train of Artillery be made ready. His Highness writes, that he had Advice the En'my's Troops were retiring, and that the Militia whom they had oblig'd to take Arms have all dispers'd themselves. 'Tis believ'd he is now before Toulon; the rather because Letters from France say, that all the Troops of the Allies having joyn'd were in full March that Way. The Armies in Brabant continue in their former Camps; but 'tis advis'd from good Hands, that as soon as 'tis known the Duke of Savoy and Prince Eugene have made a good Progress in Provence, the Army of the Allies in Brabant will make some Motion. Letters that came in this Evening from Saxony, make no Mention of the Swedes having made any Motion.

The Amsterdam Gazette of the 22d of July, says Letters from Marseilles of the 6th advis'd, that 4000 Peasants were set to work to enlarge the Ditches of Toulon; and that it was design'd to sink the Men of War in the Harbour, if the Duke of Savoy should lay Siege to it.
